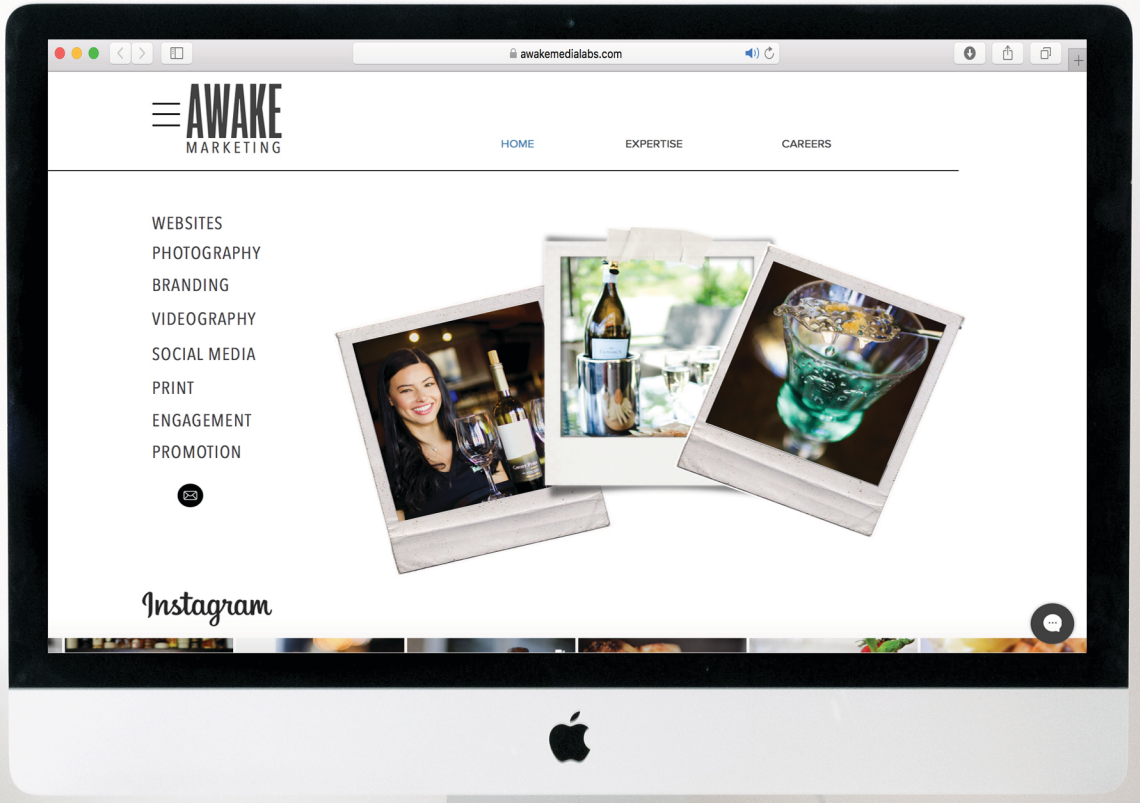
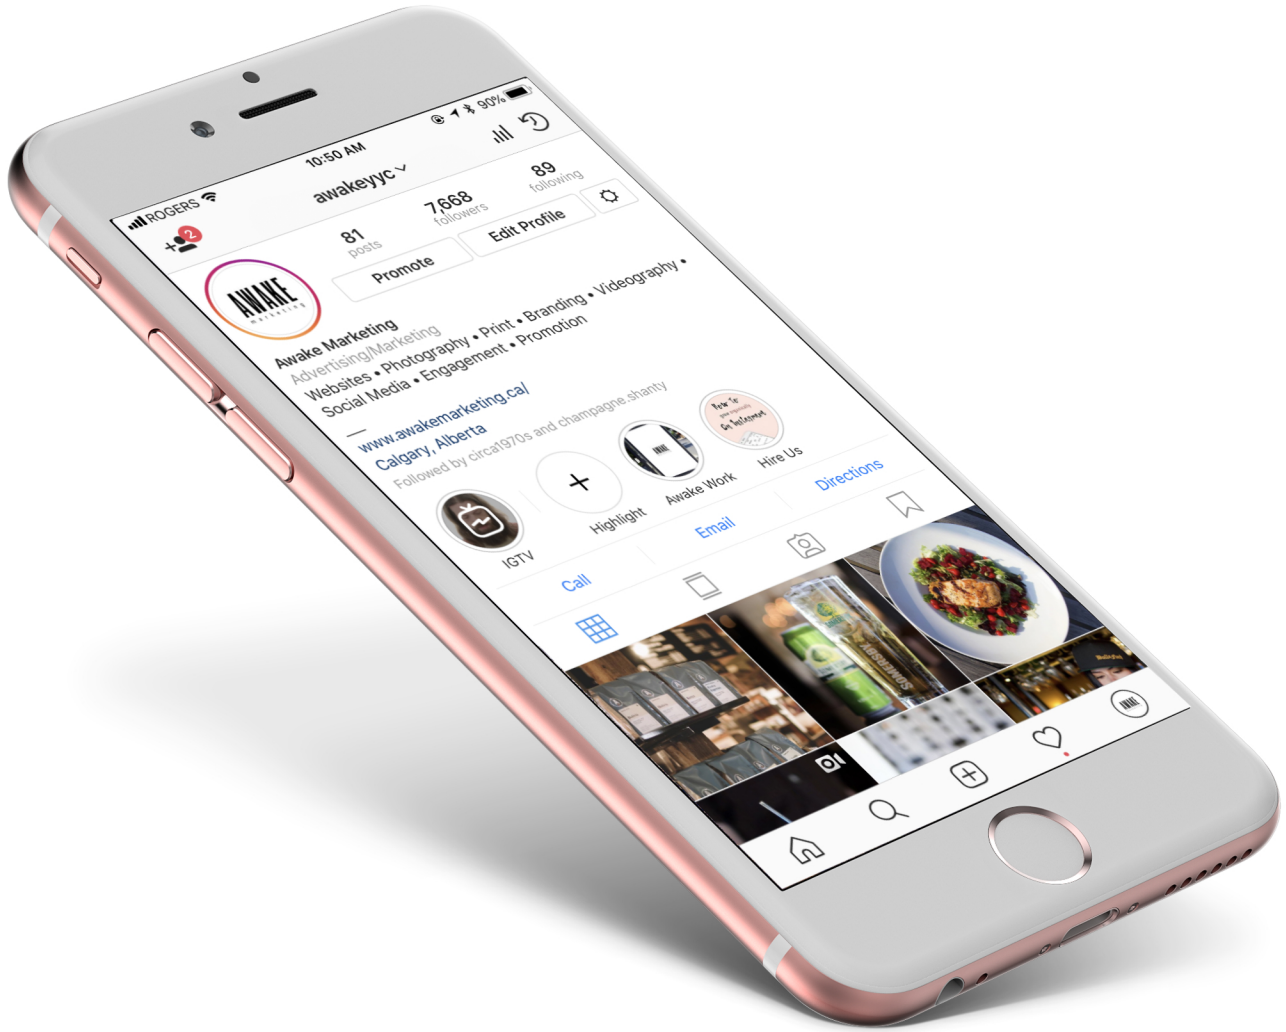
RELIABLE LOCAL TALENT





It pays to look good

A client in an oversaturated industy in Southern California called us for assistance in lowering his advertising costs.
He spent above 6 figures a year on Google Ads alone.
By revamping his website with dymanic lifestyle photos, eliminating technical jargon in his copy, and interacting daily with his niche clientele, Awake saved this client 80% in superfluous ad expenses, targeted his exact market and geotagged his posts around the precise areas that had interest in his services.
We created a theme for his Instagram, promoted posts that gained traction organically and watched as the inquiries rolled in.
The client went from losing profits every year to saving money and gaining profits within five months of our advertising campaign.
His sales jumped 1000%, because we created dynamic content that created a loyal following that built trust and rapport.
